AKCELERANT ANNOUNCES A SUCCESSFUL 2009 CUSTOMER CONFERENCE

Akcelerant partners with SWBC in delivering a conference that helps customers navigate today's uncharted economic waters.

MALVERN, PENNSYLVANIA – June 10, 2009 – The 2009 Customer Educational Conference, hosted by Akcelerant and SWBC, concluded last week in San Antonio after three exciting days of industry learning, product sessions, and networking. This event marks Akcelerant's fourth annual conference and the first time the company joined with its strategic business partner, SWBC. Despite the current economic conditions, conference attendance was higher than ever. Over 220 individuals, including representatives from 100 plus credit unions and banks, filled the Westin Riverwalk for this highly anticipated event.

The conference began on June 2 with the opening ceremony where SWBC co-owners, Charlie Amato and Gary Dudley, welcomed the crowd to their hometown of San Antonio and set the stage for keynote speaker, Josh Davis. Davis, a two-time Olympic swimmer and medalist, spoke on the importance of leadership and the qualities necessary to become a real champion. Jay Mossman, President and CEO of Akcelerant, gave a compelling presentation on 2009 progress, welcomed new Akcelerant customers as a result of the recent Guthrie Phillips Group acquisition, and spoke about his vision for providing connected technology to the financial industry. Gordon Dames, SWBC executive and former CEO of Mountain America Credit Union, then spoke on the current state of the industry and urged the crowd to take full advantage of the educational sessions being provided throughout the event.

Also during the opening ceremony, Akcelerant's annual Pioneer Award was given to Patelco Credit Union. This award is issued each year to a customer that promotes the advancement of technology with Akcelerant. Patelco was selected due to their early adoption of Akcelerant's connected application strategy through the use of SWBC product integrations.

The next three days were full of sessions dedicated to Akcelerant and SWBC products, industry education, and collaboration. Attendees learned what new Akcelerant and SWBC product features and integrations are forthcoming, as well as spent valuable one-on-one time with staff during the two-day interactive product lab. 15 experts gave presentations on a range of important topics such as auto remarketing, bankruptcy, generating more loans, and improving growth strategies. Featured presenters included Rex Johnson, founder of Lending Solutions, Inc. Tom Kontos, ADESA and Patrick Adams of St. Louis Community Credit Union. The event also heavily focused on customer collaboration by providing product best-practice sessions and two professionally moderated panel discussions on lending and risk management strategies.

“This year’s event took our conference to the next level,” states Eric Snyder, SVP of Business Development at Akcelerant. “By combining resources with SWBC, we were able to provide both significant product education and high-caliber industry sessions. We were also able to illustrate our connected application strategy using SWBC, our most successful strategic partner, as a prime example.”

“In today’s economy, education is the key to success. Hosting a joint conference with Akcelerant was the perfect way to show appreciation to our current customers and give them an opportunity to network with others who may be facing similar challenges. We are excited so many financial institutions were able to take advantage of the industry and product learning offered at this year’s event,” states Brad Young, SVP of Business Strategy at SWBC.
